Cong alleges targeted voter deletion in SIR, approaches EC

The party alleges that applications for name deletions have been submitted in significant numbers, particularly in assembly constituencies.

Press Trust Of India

DEHRADUN: Amidst the special intensive revision (SIR) of the electoral roll in Uttarakhand, the Congress party has raised serious concerns regarding the large number of objections filed via Form-7 to remove voters' names. The party alleges that applications for name deletions have been submitted in significant numbers, particularly in assembly constituencies where the Congress holds influence. Complaining to the Election Commission about this matter, the Congress has demanded an impartial inquiry into the entire process.

HIGHLIGHT

- Uttarakhand Congress party has raised concerns regarding the large number of objections filed to remove voters' names.

Congress leader Amrinder Bisht alleged that, in some instances, a single individual has filed applications seeking the removal of hundreds of voters' names. He claimed that attempts to contact some of these objectors revealed they were not present at the addresses provided, while information surfaced indicating that some individuals were residing outside Uttarakhand. The Congress has stated that if the Election Commission does not address its grievances, the party may resort to legal action and is considering approaching the court in the first week of September.

Addressing this issue, a Congress delegation led by former MLA Manoj Rawat met Chief Electoral Officer VVRC Purushottam on Friday to register their objections.

Manoj Rawat stated that while the Congress initially had faith in the SIR process, the party's concerns grew after a large number of objections seeking name deletions under Form-7 came to light. He claimed, "Our data analysis revealed that a single individual has filed objections against the names of approximately 6,400 people. There are about 1,200 individuals who have submitted more than 10 objections each. An objection has even been filed against the name of a sitting Congress MLA."

Responding to the Congress's allegations, senior BJP MLA and spokesperson Vinod Chamoli stated that complaints regarding the SIR process are not limited to the Congress; the BJP, too, has raised several objections. Chamoli stated, "If an objection is raised against a voter's name, it does not necessarily mean they are a Congress voter. Objections have also been raised against names associated with the BJP. Objections were even raised against my name and those of my family members." Accusing the Congress of turning this issue into a political narrative, he remarked that the party is raising the matter vociferously because it is in the opposition, whereas the BJP is presenting its grievances to the concerned officials.

FIR filed over protester's injury

NEW DELHI: Delhi Police on Friday registered an FIR following a complaint over an alleged pellet-gun injury suffered by student protester Sahil during protests linked to Congress leader Rahul Gandhi. The development added a new dimension to the political confrontation surrounding the protest, which has drawn criticism and competing claims from different political groups. Gandhi sat on a dharna at the Parliament Street police station, demanding action and raising questions over the circumstances in which the protester was injured. Police are expected to investigate the complaint, examine available evidence and determine the sequence of events that led to the alleged injury. The case has also triggered political reactions, with opposition leaders seeking accountability and the BJP questioning aspects of the protest and its conduct. The registration of an FIR formally begins a criminal investigation, although police findings will ultimately determine whether any individual or agency is held respon-

Union Cabinet nods HC Bench For Ladakh Region

Press Trust Of India

The Union Cabinet has approved the establishment of a Bench of the High Court of Jammu and Kashmir in Ladakh.

NEW DELHI: The Union Cabinet has approved the establishment of a Bench of the High Court of Jammu and Kashmir in Ladakh, a major decision aimed at improving access to justice for people living in the Union Territory's remote and geographically difficult areas. Union Home Minister Amit Shah announced the decision on Thursday, and the development remained among the important government decisions in the current news cycle.

According to the government, the High Court Bench will significantly reduce the time, travel and logistical difficulties faced by citizens seeking judicial remedies. Ladakh's vast distances and challenging terrain have long made access to courts difficult for many residents. Amit Shah said the decision reflected the Union government's commitment to the all-round development of Ladakh and the protection of constitutional safeguards.

M'rashtra to set up platform For effective use of CSR fund

Press Trust Of India

MUMBAI: Maharashtra Chief Minister Devendra Fadnavis on Friday directed state officials to draft a proposal for a dedicated 'Maha CSR Authority' to ensure more effective, transparent and coordinated use of Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) funds in the state. During a review meeting at Sahyadri Guest House, Fadnavis emphasised that the central platform will oversee project allocation, assist small enterprises, and prioritise the long-term maintenance of CSR-funded state infrastructure. He said that CSR initiatives were currently being implemented independently at different levels and there was a need for a common platform to coordinate these efforts.
