Actor Sowcar Janaki dies at 94

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Chennai

VETERAN actor Sowcar Janaki died at the age of 94 on Friday. She had reportedly been undergoing treatment in an intensive care unit for age-related health issues. Her mortal remains will be kept at her residence on Cenotaph Road, Teynampet, according to actor Nassar's statement.

Born on December 12, 1931, in Rajamahendravaram, Andhra Pradesh, Janaki made her acting debut with 'Raksha Rekha' in 1949. Her 1950 film 'Shavukaru', directed by LV Prasad and co-starring N T Rama Rao, was a hit and earned her the name 'Sowcar'.

One of Indian cinema's most respected veteran actors, Janaki had a career spanning more than 400 films across Telugu, Tamil, Malayalam, Hindi and Kannada. Her popular Telugu films include 'Kanyashulkam', 'Vaddante Dabbu', 'Pichchi Pullayya', 'Rechukka-Pagatichukka', 'Rojulu Marayi' and 'Doctor Chakravarthy'.

She was particularly known for her collaborations with director K Balachander in Tamil cinema, appearing in films such as 'Neerkumizhi' (1965), 'Edhir Neechal' (1968), 'Kaviya Thalaivi' (1970) and 'Thillu Mullu' (1981).

A recipient of the Kalaimamani award in 1969, Janaki was conferred the Padma Shri in 2022 for her contribution to Indian cinema and the arts. She also won several state awards for her performances.

Her final Tamil film was R Kannan's 'Biskoth' (2020), which marked her 400th film. Her last Telugu appearance was in BV Nandini Reddy's 'Anni Manchi Sakunamule' (2023). Janaki's sister was actor Krishna Kumari.

Chief Minister A Revanth Reddy expressed deep sorrow over the death of Shavukaru Janaki. He praised Janaki as a versatile actor whose performances in several acclaimed films would remain etched in the memory of audiences.

Undavalli: Will pursue case against Margadarsi with RBI

ENS @ Hyderabad

FORMER MP Undavalli Arun Kumar said though the criminal case against Margadarsi Financiers (MF) founder chairman Ramoji Rao had abated following his death, his effort to seek clarification from the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) on the liability of Hindu Undivided Families (HUFs) for violation of Section 45 (S) would continue. He said he would meet members of the Parliamentary Finance Committee, which is empowered to summon the RBI governor, to seek clarity on the issue.

Speaking to the media here on Friday a day after the Supreme Court dismissed his Special Leave Petition challenging the Telangana High Court's ruling setting aside criminal proceedings against MF for collecting public deposits in violation of RBI regulations, the former MP said: "Though I do not intend to attribute any motives to the judges, they questioned my locus standi and struck down the case. I had filed the SLP in the Supreme Court after the Telangana High Court verdict. The questions that remained when the case was earlier remanded to the Telangana High Court were whether all the depositors had been paid by Margadarsi Financiers, whether there was a violation of Section 45 (S) of the Reserve Bank of India Act and the consequences thereof, and whether there was any need to pursue a case that had been pending in the trial court for years or whether it was a futile exercise."

The Telangana High Court had held that the issue relating to Section 45 (S) should be pursued. However, the Andhra Pradesh and Telangana governments contended that following the death of Ramoji Rao, there was no need to pursue the case.

The court, while agreeing that the criminal proceedings would abate following Ramoji Rao's death, observed that the issue of recovering the dues from his successors would remain. "I therefore approached the Supreme Court seeking clarity on the applicability of Section 45(S)," he said.

"The current Supreme Court judgment has not addressed the issue and simply said that since Ramoji Rao is no more and the AP and Telangana governments were not pursuing the case, it was being closed. I had asked the Supreme Court to clarify the definition and scope of Section 45 (S). I also wrote to the two state governments, but they did not respond," he said.

Clarifying that he had not pursued the case out of any personal vendetta, Undavalli said he had no financial interest in the matter and had never personally met Ramoji Rao.

"My only interest was that a bad precedent should not be set. If large organisations violate regulations, others may also do so in the future. The law should apply equally to everyone. My principal objection was that as an HUF, Margadarsi Financiers should not have solicited deposits," he said.

Tenant farmers set mid-Sept deadline for recognition to access govt schemes

G RAM MOHAN @ Hyderabad

TENANT farmers have set the second week of September as a deadline for the state government to begin identifying them, warning of a statewide dharna if the process is not initiated.

At a roundtable organised by the Kaulu Raithula Gurthimpu (Tenant Farmers' Recognition) Sadhana Committee, farmers said the lack of recognition had left them without access to institutional credit and government schemes.

Ramakanth from Adilabad said identification was the first step towards addressing their problems. "Tenancy has reached ₹30,000 to ₹35,000 per acre. We are not able to avail any bank loans and have to borrow in the market at higher rates. The government should issue loan eligibility cards to tenant farmers by holding gram sabhas as laid down in the 2011 Land Licensed Cultivators Act. In the absence of such recognition, we are forced to sell our produce at cheaper rates," he said.

Prof Haragopal and others at the Identification of Tenant Farmers Round Table Conference at Sundarayya Vignana Kendram in Hyderabad on Friday

Chand Bi from Zaheerabad mandal in Sangareddy district said benefits such as Rythu Bandhu and crop loans went to landowners while tenant farmers were left without support.

Kiran Vissa of the Sadhana Committee said tenant cultivators seeking recognition should be verified through public enquiry at the gram sabha level, as provided under the 2011 Act. "OTP-based verification can be an additional option given to the cultivator, but not the only mechanism. There are no policy implementation hurdles. What is needed is political will," he said.

Prof Yogendra Yadav said he had backed the Congress because of its promises to tenant farmers. "Lack of progress in implementing the 2011 Act is a dampener and makes me wonder whether there was any merit in backing the party," he said.

MLC Prof Kodandaram called tenant farmers the most vulnerable section of the farming community and called for a united fight. Prof G Haragopal said the demand for "land to the tiller", a slogan for about 100 years, had been reduced to merely seeking identification of tenant farmers.

Viveka murder: ED searches 7 locations in Hyd, Kadapa

ENS @ Hyderabad

THE Directorate of Enforcement (ED), Hyderabad Zonal Office, conducted searches at seven locations in Hyderabad and Kadapa on Friday under the provisions of the Prevention of Money Laundering Act (PMLA) in connection with the murder of former minister and MP YS Vivekananda Reddy on March 15, 2019.

According to the ED, the CBI chargesheets revealed that Siva Shankar Reddy, a YSRCP functionary, and his associates, Kadapa MP Avinash Reddy and his father Bhaskar Reddy, were allegedly unhappy with Vivekananda Reddy after he joined the YSRCP, fearing that his growing political influence could challenge theirs.

The ED said the accused hatched a conspiracy to eliminate Vivekananda Reddy and roped in their aides, including Gangi Reddy, Shaik Dastagiri and Y Sunil Yadav.

Dastagiri later turned approver and was granted pardon by the CBI court. According to his statement, Gangi Reddy told him that Siva Shankar Reddy and some senior politicians were also involved in the conspiracy and that Siva Shankar Reddy would pay ₹40 crore for the murder.

Dastagiri was allegedly promised ₹5 crore as his share of the amount. He reportedly admitted receiving ₹1 crore from Y Sunil Yadav, of which Sunil allegedly took ₹25 lakh. Dastagiri gave the remaining ₹75 lakh to his friend Syed Munna. The CBI later seized ₹46.70 lakh in cash and unaccounted jewellery from the locker of Syed Munna and his mother, the ED said.

The ED registered a money-laundering case based on the FIR and chargesheets filed by the CBI.

The searches were conducted at the residential premises of key accused in Hyderabad and Kadapa. The operations resulted in the seizure of incriminating documents and digital devices. Unaccounted cash of ₹24 lakh and two locker keys were also seized from the premises of Avinash Reddy, the ED said.
