No maintenance if wife earns more, rules HC

As per TDS statement, the woman's income is ₹1.64L pm, while the husband earns ₹60K pm

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

WHEN a woman is financially sound, her income is more than that of her husband and she has no other liabilities, like looking after children, courts should not be inclined to pass an order straightaway granting maintenance on the ground that a wife is required to be maintained by her husband, said the Karnataka High Court.

It added that the court should bear in mind that they have to award maintenance, either interim or final, only when it is shown that the wife has no financial sources to maintain herself according to the standards of her husband.

Dr Justice Chillakur Sumalatha passed the order, allowing a petition filed by the 37-year-old husband from Gonikoppa, challenging an order dated December 19, 2025, passed by a trial court in Mysuru, which directed him to pay ₹20,000 interim maintenance per month to the wife on the interlocutory application filed by her in a domestic violence dispute.

"In the case on hand, the income of the wife is more than that of the husband. With her admitted income of ₹1 lakh per month, she can maintain herself. Therefore, there is no requirement for the trial court to order the husband to pay a sum of ₹20,000 per month out of his earnings of ₹60,646 per month. Hence, this court is of the view that the order under challenge is unsustainable in the eye of law. Hence, the order of the trial court is set aside," the court said.

Only because a woman, more particularly a wife, files a petition invoking the provisions of the Domestic Violence Act or the provisions of the Hindu Adoption and Maintenance Act or the provisions contained in the Code of Criminal Procedure, where the right to claim maintenance is recognised, the courts cannot straight away pass an order awarding some amount towards maintenance, it added.

The husband's counsel contended that the couple got married in 2024 and the wife lived with him for two months. She reportedly later filed a false complaint. As per the tax deducted at source statement, her salary is ₹1.64 lakh per month. The couple do not have any children. Except for maintaining herself, she has no other obligations.

Officials meet families to track drug victims' progress

Officials conduct surprise drug tests and maintain contact with their families to monitor their progress. Repeat offenders may face fresh legal action under the NDPS Act.

"With this, there will be fear among students that if they are caught again, there will be legal consequences. Then there is a chance of change," an official said.

As part of the follow-up, women police personnel discreetly interact with the families of students who have undergone treatment to understand whether they have resumed drug use and to assess their progress.

Officials also said drug addiction has left some victims vulnerable to other crimes. They cited instances in which women addicted to drugs were allegedly sexually exploited while intoxicated and later did not come forward to lodge complaints.

Police cited a case from Jagtial district last year in which a Class VIII girl allegedly consumed ganja with three male classmates. They alleged that the girl was sexually exploited by the boys on multiple occasions.

In another case, the son of a police employee became addicted to ganja and was admitted to a de-addiction centre, illustrating that drug addiction can affect people irrespective of their background.

According to official figures, 822 students have been booked under various categories in NDPS cases across Telangana since 2024. Of them, 192 have been sent to de-addiction centres, including 103 between January 1 and June 11 this year, reflecting the police's increasing focus on rehabilitation alongside enforcement.

TGSRTC UNION POLLS

1st notification likely in 2-3 days

SIDDHARDHA GATTIMI @ Hyderabad

THE Telangana State Road Transport Corporation has intensified preparations for its union elections, ending months of uncertainty among employees.

Sources indicate the initial election notification will likely be issued within the next two to three days. However, union leaders reiterated their demand that the corporation's merger with the state government be completed before elections.

The joint labour commissioner, appointed as the election officer, recently met with TGSRTC management to review the election roadmap and union verification process. The management has reportedly submitted the polling station details and booth in-charge lists.

Meanwhile, union leaders urged the government to announce the official "appointed date" for the merger before elections. They warn that delaying the merger will hurt retiring employees, who risk losing out on government benefits.

Man kills mother, dies by suicide

Nalgonda: A 40-year-old man bludgeoned his 65-year-old mother to death with a boulder and later died by suicide on Monday over a property dispute at Pedda Ravulapalli under Bhoodan Pochampally mandal of Yadadri Bhuvanagiri district. According to police, Sangam Srinivas had been involved in a long-running land dispute with his mother Sangam Pochamma. The ongoing friction escalated into a violent confrontation between the two. As the argument intensified, Srinivas lost his temper and, in a fit of rage, struck his mother on the head with a boulder. Pochamma died on the spot. Upon realising that his mother died, Srinivas allegedly hanged himself in the house.
