Trump claims Hormuz as US territory, rules out Iran talks

'Strait of Hormuz remains closed until US meets its demands'

WASHINGTON

US President Donald Trump on Tuesday posted a map on his Truth Social platform showing the Strait of Hormuz as "New US Territory," pressing his threat to claim sovereignty over the vital waterway.

Trump said Tuesday that no talks with Tehran are under way or planned and insisted the blockade of Iran's ports remains in force. "There are no talks or conversations going on, or scheduled, with the Islamic Republic of Iran. The Naval Blockade remains in full force and effect," Trump wrote on his Truth Social network.

"The Hormuz Strait is open and operating. All water mines have been removed or detonated." Iran has effectively shut down the chokepoint, through which a fifth of the world's oil transits, in retaliation for the war Trump started along with Israel in late February.

Trump first raised the idea of a US takeover on Friday, saying in a jovial-sounding tone he would soon declare it to be US territory, prompting Iran to retort that the strait "will remain Iranian." Trump revisited the idea again in comments to reporters in the Oval Office, suggesting it would be a good idea.

Trump has previously threatened to annex Canada, seize Greenland and take control of Gaza. Before the February 28 war, Hormuz was an open international waterway. Iran's top negotiator Mohammad Bagher Ghalibaf said on Tuesday that the Strait of Hormuz will not be opened until the United States meets Tehran's demands, including lifting the naval blockade.

WAR WATCH

"I want to state clearly that the Strait of Hormuz will not be opened until the American commitments stipulated in the memorandum of understanding... are implemented," Ghalibaf said in a speech broadcast on state television.

Iran and Oman have for weeks been discussing the future of navigation through the strait, with Tehran saying the geographical coordinates of a route envisaged by both countries "have been agreed upon". AFP
