El Nino set to be strongest in over a century, warns UK

Head of forecasting at British Met Office says 'never seen an El Nino signal this intense'

LONDON

THIS year's El Nino weather pattern will be the biggest in over a century and could make 2027 the hottest year globally, Britain's national weather agency predicted Friday.

An El Nino weather event happens when warming sea surface temperatures in the tropical eastern Pacific trigger worldwide changes in winds, atmospheric pressure and rainfall, as well as higher global temperatures overall.

Adam Scaife, head of long-range forecasting at the weather agency, told the BBC: "We are expecting the biggest El Nino for over a century, peaking at something over three degrees — that is unheard of in modern climate records."

This means Pacific water would heat up more than 3C above the norm in the coming months. El Nino occurs when water temperatures rise at least 0.5C above the baseline. While it is part of a natural cycle, scientists agree climate change increases its impacts.

A record El Nino would be "adding to the stresses of climate change" following a summer of heatwaves across Europe, the Met Office said.

Temperatures in the Pacific region are running about 2.6C above a rolling 30-year average, according to the Climate Brink dashboard based on data from the US National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration. The dashboard also aggregates forecasts that put El Nino on course to peak at a 3.9C anomaly this November — well above a 3C anomaly detected in 2015. AFP

Time to end months-long war, says Iran president

TEHRAN

IRANIAN President Masoud Pezeshkian said on Friday it was time to end the months-long West Asia war with the United States because Tehran appeared to be in a stronger position than Washington.

Talks between the decades-old foes remain on hold, with both sides in the war started by the US and Israel in February locked in a stalemate.

Tehran is keeping the key Strait of Hormuz partially shut and Washington is persisting with a naval counter-blockade of Iran. "It is better that we bring the war to an end now as we are in a position of power and dignity," Pezeshkian said in a meeting with doctors.

"The whole world acknowledges our victory and emphasises that America has attacked our schools, hospitals and infrastructure in violation of all regulations and is hated around the world."

Pezeshkian also defended a memorandum of understanding agreed with the US in June aimed at ending the war, claiming it did not signal a defeat for Tehran. "They cannot find even a single clause in this agreement that indicates capitulation. All the commitments concern the other side," he said.

His remarks come weeks after Iran's Supreme Leader Mojtaba Khamenei said he had approved the deal to end the war despite having "different views".

Hardline lawmakers in Iran's parliament have also criticised the government over the deal, accusing it of giving concessions to the US, mostly over the re-opening of the strategic Hormuz Strait.

According to reports in US media, the American navy has been organising and protecting secret convoys of tankers through the southern sector of the Strait of Hormuz enabling between five and 10 million barrels a day of oil to be exported.

As Tehran claimed to be in the stronger position, the US has said it would ramp up sanctions to heap pressure on Tehran.

Security risk: Gulf countries deport 20,000 Pakistanis

Lahore:Over 20,000 Pakistani nationals were deported from Gulf countries, mostly from Saudi Arabia and the UAE, in recent months due to security concerns and multiple reasons, amid the ongoing conflict between Iran and the US. According to the Narcotics Control Ministry data, presented before the National Assembly on Thursday, several Pakistanis were also detained or deported for filming or uploading videos and material relating to Iranian attacks in their cities.

Court orders Harry, others to pay £9.5mn to Daily Mail

LONDON

A UK court ordered Prince Harry and six others Friday to pay an initial £9.5 million ($13 million) after they lost their long-running privacy case against the publisher of British tabloid the Daily Mail.

The High Court said the prince and six other high-profile figures, who last month lost their unlawful information gathering and privacy invasion claims against Associated Newspapers Limited, must make the payment in a week. (The Duke of Sussex will be relocating back to Britain from California soon.)

The claimants in the case — which include Elton John, his husband David Furnish, actors Elizabeth Hurley and Sadie Frost — accused the Mail of bugging their cars and homes, listening into calls and other privacy breaches.

ANL had denied all the allegations. AFP
